PHTHALATE FREE Snaplights

Phthalates are a common chemical used in everyday products – including lightsticks

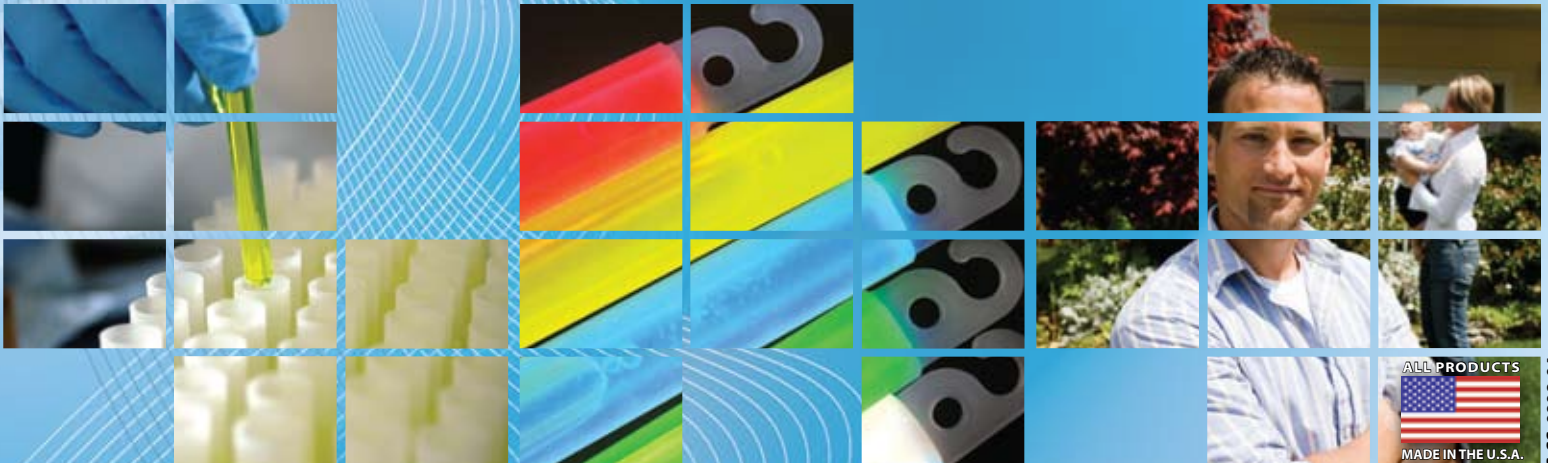

Some Phthalates

- ✓ Have been found to damage human reproductive systems
- ✓ Have been found to be hormone disruptors
- ✓ Have been found to cause cancer

- ✓ The 27 member countries of the European Union banned phthalates in 1999
- ✓ The “Kids Safe Chemical Act” will ban six phthalates commonly used in the US

We care about your safety

- 🌱 By providing safety products that will light your way
- 🌱 By adopting the European Union’s Precautionary Principle – “Better safe than sorry”
- 🌱 SnapLights are PHTHALATE FREE
